

LIBRARY MEDIA CENTRAL

Where Text Meets Tech!

The Samuels Mills Sprole School
Public School 32: An Empowerment School

Deborah A. Florio, Principal

317 Hoyt Street, Brooklyn, New York 11231 (718) 330-9295

January 2012

Dear P.S. 32 Community,

New Year, New Library

Our library is starting to look more and more like a library and less like a construction site. The ceiling mural is up as are all of the lights. The furniture, Smart Board, and rugs should be arriving any day now. Our order for our iMacs, MacBook Pros, iPads and server is almost out. The guest list is being compiled for the grad re-opening and Borough President Marty Markowitz, Assemblywoman Joan Millman, and Councilman Brad Lander will all be there. Tomas Rodriquez, the Spanish guitarist who performed at our first BookStock fundraiser will be back to perform and we hope to have some authors and illustrators in attendance as well. Please keep an eye out for your invitation so that you can RSVP and receive tickets (tickets are free, will enter you in the raffle, and are needed based on the large unexpected turn out for previous events sponsored by the library).

Show Us Your APPtitude!

Let us know if there are any iPad Apps that you think would be useful in the library. You can submit your recommendations by posting to the library blog on the school website, or emailing me.

How Can You Help Support the Library

Without the help of student, parent, teacher, and community volunteers we would not have a library. We are in need of volunteers to help to restock our shelves in the coming weeks. Please let me know if you have any time to offer.

Thank you,
Adam Marcus, Librarian arm285@optonline.net